

British War Aims To Be Advanced By Lloyd George

British Premier Will State War Aims
Of His Government Before Parliament Thursday Next

SUCH STATEMENT IS DEEMED NECESSARY

By Ed. L. Keen
London, Dec. 10.—Premier Lloyd George will respond to the recently increased popular demands for a clear explicit definition of the allies' war aims. He will make such a statement within the next few days. It may come when the House of Commons convenes on Wednesday.

The announcement of such a re-statement of the war aims has been made apparent to the British government by several recent developments as contained in exclusive United Press dispatches ten days ago. First, the military, political and economical situation as changed by the developments in Russia; second, an erroneous impression has been created not only in Germany but in the allied and neutral nations by the letter of Marquis Lansdowne; third, President Wilson's redeclaration of America's altruism; fourth, the serious effect of the anti-British propaganda in the United States. It is known that Lloyd George is considering this announcement with more serious thought than any of his previous utterances.

SMALLPOX AT PENFIELD

A Penfield resident was discovered to be suffering with smallpox by the health authorities on Friday last and in consequence the boarding house where he was located, together with a score or so of people are quarantined.

The victim had been circulating generally about the community and made a trip or two to DuBois during the onset of the disease and as a result everybody in that section is being vaccinated.

GERMANS MAKE NO GAINS

London, Dec. 10.—Two German raids which were driven off was all that Field Marshal Haig had to report from the British front today. Southwest of Labassee one of the German raids was driven back before it reached the British lines. At Klein Gillebeke another raiding party was repulsed.

CIVIL COURT BEGINS

The first week of December term of civil court opened this morning with Judge Bell on the bench. Several cases are listed for trial.

Judge Corbett of Brookville, came to Clearfield this afternoon on the 4:35 B. & P. train and will preside over a special case which is scheduled for trial tomorrow.

BACK FROM CAMP LEE

W. P. Carns, one of the Clearfield boys at Camp Lee, came home this morning on a five days furlough and expects to hit the trial in the morning for the Carns camp at the head of Stone run where he will hunt deer a day or two.

JAPS AND CHINKS BUSY

Haparanda, Dec. 10.—Chinese troops have entered Harbin and Japanese troops have entered Vladivostok to afford protection from disturbances, according to an announcement by the Petrograd Official News Agency today.

PEASANT'S COUNCIL REFUSES ARMISTICE

Petrograd, Dec. 10.—The executive committee of the Peasant's council today issued a manifesto repudiating an armistice with Germany and strongly appealing to the people to be against the Bolsheviks and against a separate peace with Germany.

The Russian Election Repudiates Bolshviki

Radicals Now Ask For Coalition Government

Joseph Shaplen
Haparanda, Dec. 10.—The Bolsheviks are ready to agree to a coalition government, according to word brought from Petrograd by couriers today. Returns from Russia's nation wide election show that the Trotsky-Lenine government had been overwhelmingly rejected by the Russian people. It was learned that the Bolsheviks had agreed to submit to the authority of the Central committee at work with the Soldiers and Peasants committees with representatives of all the other Russian political parties and trades.

BOLSHEVIKI CONTROLS SIBERIAN RAILROAD

London, Dec. 10.—The Bolsheviks have gained control of the Siberian railroad and Harbin according to word received here today. Control of Harbin and the trans-Siberian railroad system would likely give the Russians another reason why they would want a separate peace with Germany because the railroad would open up the vast resources of Siberia and Manchuria to the Germans.

CLEARFIELD SHOULD ELECT A NEW FIRE CHIEF

(By United Press)
Philadelphia, Dec. 10.—"Fire-women" are next! According to Fire Chief William H. Murphy this day is not far distant when women will be taken into the Bureau of Fire, not only for clerical duty, but for active work on the engines, trucks and ladders. Chief Murphy painted an attractive picture of daring, heroic

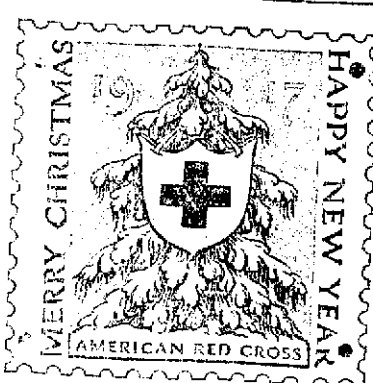

AGED GOSHEN TOWNSHIP RESIDENT DIES

Mrs. Jane Lansberry, relict of the late Samuel Lansberry, passed peacefully into rest eternal at the old homestead in Goshen township, at an early hour Sunday morning, aged about 80 years. Mrs. Lansberry was one of the oldest and most respected residents of Goshen township, where she spent her entire life.

WARNS AGAINST BEING OPTIMISTIC

Washington, Dec. 10.—In startling fashion Secretary of War Baker's weekly war summary today warned the nation against the belief that the newly massed German troops on the Western front would have very little effect. With the German forces taken from the eastern front Germany will be at the greatest strength she has displayed in two and a half years, Baker said.

The war secretary said that the Germans through temporary numerical strength may be able to achieve some relative advantages such as that at Cambrai. He reviewed the British retreat there and praised the American engineers under fire and then warned the country that it must speed up all military preparations "not only to fight but to win the war."

First Armistice Is Now In Full Force

Affects District From Danube To Roumania

(By United Press)
Berlin via London, Dec. 10.—Signing of an armistice with Russia effecting the lines between the Dniester and the Danube was announced in today's official statement.

The sector mentioned constitutes the Russian southeast front and effects the line around Lemberg thru to Roumania.

SURPRISE PARTY

A most pleasant surprise party was held at the home of John Spanogle, when about fifty of their neighbors and friends came in with well filled baskets to celebrate the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Spanogle and her son Roy Carley.

All present did full justice to the splendid supper served after which the evening was spent in singing, music and games.

On departing all bid their friend Roy good bye as he is answering his country's call for men and leaves in a few days to be assigned to one of Uncle Sam's army camps.

EXPLOSIVE LICENSING AGENT FOR CLEARFIELD COUNTY

Prothonotary John H. Moore has been named as Explosive Licensing Agent for Clearfield county. This position has been created by National explosives regulation act which requires all dealers in explosives to be licensed.

Prothonotary Moore has all the necessary blanks in his possession and is now ready to attend to the duties of his appointment.

Under this act it is necessary for each dealer to appear before the licensing agent in person to secure his license, and all those desiring to engage in this business should bear this fact in mind.

THE REAL THING

Old Man Winter and all his children arrived with bells and boots on Saturday night and have since been biting noses and stinging "toes" to their hearts' content. Jack Frost was too much for the heating plants at several of the school rooms this morning, with the result that the kiddos left it back home to mother and did not venture out again until after dinner, at which time the temperature of the school rooms warranted pursuit of knowledge once more.

Former Prothonotary A. M. Bloom Dead

Will Be Buried at Clearfield Wednesday Afternoon

Former Prothonotary A. M. Bloom died suddenly at his home in Penfield early Sunday morning, aged about 65 years.

Mr. Bloom, who was a son of the late Eli Bloom, was one of the best known men in Clearfield county and his death will be sincerely mourned by a large circle of friends.

He had been Postmaster at Penfield for the past two years. He was in Clearfield about ten days ago in his usual good health and news of his death came as a distinct shock to his friends here.

He leaves a widow, two sons and three daughters and is also survived by one sister, Mrs. George Weaver, of Philadelphia.

Obituary and funeral notice tomorrow.

HOLY CITY CAPTURED

London, Dec. 10.—Jerusalem has fallen. The capture of the Holy City, Christianity's most hallowed spot, by General Allenby's British expeditionary forces was announced here today.

The capture of Jerusalem placed the Holy City under Christian control again for the first time in 401 years. During all of that time it has been under control of the Turks. The British began their pushing up the Suez canal early last Spring. Jerusalem's fate was sealed when the British expeditionary forces captured the city of Beersheba. Jerusalem's fall will have a tremendous effect on the Turkish morale according to belief here. Control of this shrine of Christianity has been the boast of Moslem for centuries.

A HANDSOME WINDOW

Encouraged by their previous success in winning the second prize in the window contest waged last year by the Eveready Flashlight concern, the Electric Supply have once more thrown their hats, collectively, into the ring and are after another window prize.

This time the manufacturers of the APEX vacuum sweeper have inaugurated a window contest and the window now being shown by the Electric Supply Co., should be in the running when the prizes are awarded.

The motif of the trim is a room wherein the usual living room furniture is shown and the trimmer has demonstrated by clever placing of the Apex cleaners the ease with which dirt is removed from under radiators, how easily the rugs may be cleaned under the tables and chairs without heavy lifting; how you can clean by the suction method all your upholstered furniture.

The Christmas idea is incorporated into the window by judicious use of poinsettias and tinsel and the whole makes a pleasing ensemble that should place the window high among its competitors.

CLEARFIELDERS SUFFER LOSS

Two Clearfield boys were victims of the destructive fire which visited Jersey Shore early Sunday morning. They were Stanley Chase, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Chase, who lost his tailor shop, while the electrical supplies store of George McNeil, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sanford McNeil, of West River street was also in the burned area.

GONE TO JACKSONVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Linn Dorr received a telegram from their son Lawshe on Saturday last which stated that he was leaving Fort Slocum that day for a training camp near Jacksonville, Florida. He recently enlisted in the quartermaster's department of the U. S. army.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Shillen, of Gulch avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter Carmella, to Captain Thomas Edwards of the Medical Reserve Corps of the University of Pennsylvania, Base Hospital No. 20. The wedding will take place Christmas week in Philadelphia, Monsignor Crane, officiating.

Fire Which Started From Overheated Furnace Wipes Out Five Business Places In Short Order

PHILIPSBURG DEPARTMENT TO RESCUE

A fire which started in the Osceola House at Osceola destroyed the hotel and wiped out the entire block of business houses in that square down to the pool room and cigar store of A. W. Baird. All the buildings in the square were frame and the flames cut through them very rapidly.

The fire caught from a defective furnace in the hotel and spread so rapidly that the building and almost all its contents were totally destroyed, a part of the dining room furniture being about all that was saved.

The wholesale whiskey store of M. McCarty adjoined the hotel and it also went up in flames, although Mr. McCarty succeeded in saving most of this stock and fixtures.

The Lewis Fulton building was next in the path of the flames and it too went up in smoke. It was occupied by Law & Beck's meat market and the Candy Kitchen of Frank Danhos. Very little was saved from either place.

The two-story brick pool room and cigar store of A. W. Baird was next and here the firemen after a most determined three hour battle succeeded in conquering the flames, although the interior of the Baird building was badly damaged by fire and water.

In addition to the business places, enumerated above the apartments of Mrs. Gallagher on the second floor of the Fulton building were destroyed with their contents, as were the H. & C. telephone exchange and bachelor quarters of Dr. McKim and H. B. McCord on the second floor of the Baird building.

The fire started at 1 o'clock this morning and as the thermometer registered five degrees below zero.

THE HAND OF GOD IN HISTORY

Despite the zero weather last evening there was a good sized audience at the Presbyterian church to hear the High School Glee club and Professor John Taylor's lecture on "The Hand of God in History."

The High School Glee club of seventy voices sang exceptionally well and their numbers, difficult as they were, were handled with smoothness and were interpreted with feeling. Professor Van Osten is to be congratulated upon his work with the chorus as their singing last evening was of the highest order.

Mr. Taylor treated his audience to one of the most instructive lectures that has ever been listened to in Clearfield. He proved by conclusive arguments that the hand of God was plainly shown in all the great wars from the time Moses was raised up to lead the Children of Israel out of bondage. By successive steps from that time down to the present the marks of His Handiwork are plainly seen and in conclusion Mr. Taylor explained how this nation in particular was the result of divine guidance and that, in this present world war, this nation would be the leading spirit in Christianizing the world.

Two Clearfield boys were victims of the destructive fire which visited Jersey Shore early Sunday morning. They were Stanley Chase, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Chase, who lost his tailor shop, while the electrical supplies store of George McNeil, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sanford McNeil, of West River street was also in the burned area.

The third number of the High School lecture course was given by the Fairchild quartette at the High School building last Friday evening.

The Fairchild quartette was the best ladies quartette that has been in Clearfield in five years. The music given by them was wonderful. The violin solos given by Miss Dorothy Fairchild has heard for some time. Miss Lela Fairchild, gave some excellent readings and the playing of Miss Bessie Fairchild, pianist and Miss Mildred Meremess, cellist, was very good. The quartette also gave some excellent singing.

It is not often that Clearfield people have a chance to listen to such talented musicians as these were. This is their first year under Redpath management.

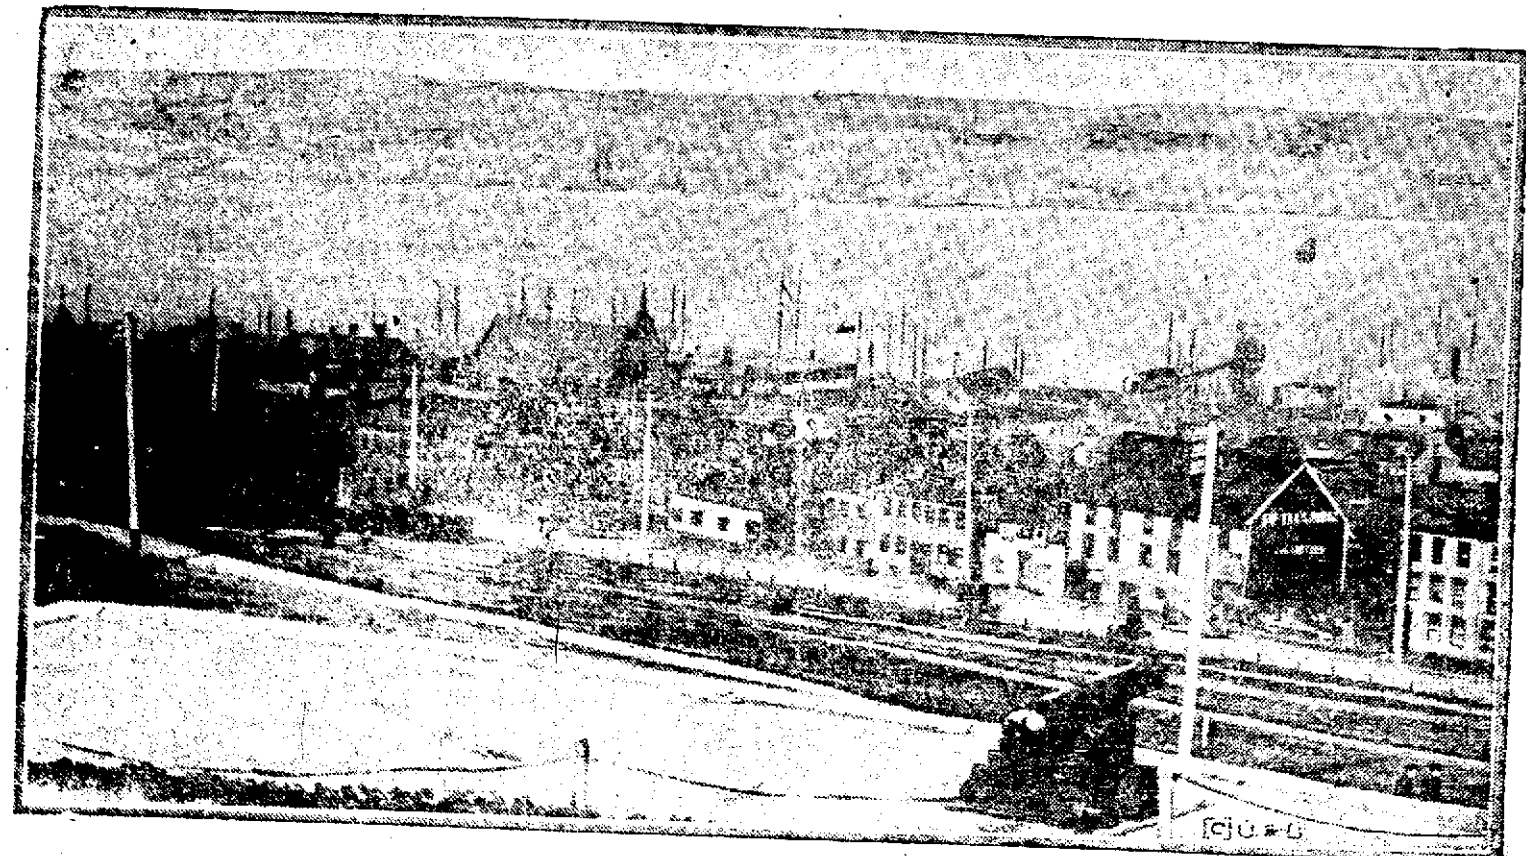

We hope that the Fairchild quartet will again visit Clearfield next year.

Copenhagen, Dec. 10.—The districts in Russia comprising the provinces of Orenburg, Terna and Usan have declared their independence according to word received here.

TOO MUCH NIGHT SHOOTING
The citizens living down about Fourteenth street, East End, are complaining about the colored men employed in the lower brick works doing so much promiscuous shooting in that section at night. It is said that on Saturday night there was a regular fusillade at different times during the night, while on Sunday night one person counted four shots fired in close proximity to his front door.

MONDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 10, 1917.

Take this tip from father: The cost of the luxuries which fill our stomachs today would put a load of coal in every poor family's coal bin in Clearfield.

Such a cold snap as we are now going through is bound to bring out a great many cases of privation and poverty. False pride prevents and deters many families from publicly acknowledging their living conditions and as a result when a real cold blizzard comes along they are without proper food and clothing. Even then they hold back until in many cases sickness and even death enter these homes. A few cases of desperate need have come to light the past two days and no doubt there are a number of families in this community today who are without the necessities which will guarantee them health and happiness. Let every citizen be on the lookout for such conditions and investigate them. Be a good Samaritan to these people who have been unable to cope with the high cost of living in this trying age. It is a patriotic service to perform as we can not afford to be crippled economically by unnecessary sickness and adversity.

PASSING OF PIONEER REPUBLICAN

William E. Chandler of New Hampshire, whose death has just occurred at the ripe age of eighty-two, was one of the founders of the Republican party. An early Free Soiler, he was active in the organization of the Fremont campaign in 1856; and his State was among those which gave their electoral votes to the Pathfinder. The friend of Lincoln, Mr. Chandler came to Washington in the days of the Civil War and was an assistant secretary of the treasury. He became secretary of the Republican National Committee, and his activities in the disputed Presidential election of 1876 are a matter of history. He served in President Arthur's Cabinet as Secretary of the Navy; and under him were taken the first steps in the building of the new navy, the "White Squadron" of his day having now become the second largest naval force afloat. For fourteen years he represented New Hampshire in the Senate; and, on his retirement from that position he became president of the commission which settled the claims growing out of the war with Spain. For sixty years he was active in public affairs, having outlived nearly all of his contemporaries of pioneer Republican days and having maintained his interest in constructive political work to the end.

CHAMBERLAIN CASE BEFORE GRAND JURY

Richmond, Va., Dec. 10 — The Goodland county grand jury which convenes today will take up for consideration the case of Dr. Asa Chamberlain, charged with the murder of his brother, Albert P. Chamberlain. The alleged murder occurred at the home of his brother Albert P. Chamberlain near this city on the night of October 22. Several days after the allegedly dismembered body of the slain man was found buried beneath an outhouse. Investigation by the authorities led to the arrest of Dr. Chamberlain, who is said to have gone to the home of his brother on the day of the alleged crime to settle a debt.

SUPREME COURT RECONVENES

Washington, D. C., Dec. 10—The

Supreme Court of the United States reconvened today, following the two weeks recess over the Thanksgiving holidays. One of the most important cases docketed to receive the early attention of the supreme tribunal is a test case brought to determine the constitutionality of the Selective Draft Law. Altogether there are seven suits pending before the court involving this issue. Among them are those of Emma Goldman and Alexander Berkman, sentenced to two years' imprisonment and fines for urging men of conscription age not to register.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work. People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. P. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

I find that in order to justify me in operating the Town Jitney under present conditions it will be necessary for me to ask just a little more fare from each passenger, and knowing as you do, the necessity for such a move, am satisfied that you will be willing to share a little of my added expense with me.

Below you will find a schedule of rules and regulations for the governing of the Town Jitney service after December 9, 1917:

Single fares, 7 cents; double fare, 15 cents; three fares, 20 cents; four fares, 30 cents; five fares, 35 cents.

All passengers will be required to make their own change and have fare or ticket ready to drop in slot when entering car.

No penny change will be made by jitney driver and if patron does not have a nickel and two pennies he will have to drop a dime in the slot. All pieces of money from 25 cents up will be changed for patrons by driver on demand.

I will offer Cut Rate Ticket books, one containing 8 tickets for 60 cents, and one containing 16 tickets for $1. On entering jitney patron will be required to tear tickets off single before dropping in slot and when more than one fare is paid with tickets you will be required to name number of fares to driver and show tickets before dropping them.

This advance is absolutely necessary if we would continue our service, and we ask your consideration and co-operation in the change.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder troubles you

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then a get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with soda, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in the so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

An Abuse of the Telephone

By F. A. MITCHELL

(Copyright, 1917, Western Newspaper Union.)

"I'll call you up about nine o'clock and let you know the result."

"You can't call me up because I have no telephone in my house."

"No telephone? Why, I supposed every house had a telephone nowadays."

"Mine hasn't. It had one and I had it taken out."

"Why so?"

"Well, there's a little story about it. If you care to hear it, I'll tell it to you. You know, I live out at Hibton, an hour's ride from the city. When I was first married, my wife was alone all day. I being in town at business, so we concluded to put in a telephone so that she could call me up once in a while to break her loneliness, or if anything unusual occurred."

"Well, the first thing to be communicated was, 'I caught the mouse I set the trap for; what shall I do with it?' The next thing to be communicated was, 'Someone is in the house opposite; the doctor's conveyance is standing before the door.'"

Then she called me up to ask me to bring her a spoon of thread when I came out in the evening. I must walk six blocks to a store where I could buy the kind she wanted, and she could get it by walking two blocks, or send for it by telephone. I told her to do this and she said she didn't like to ask the storekeeper to send so small a package costing only two cents. It was the same with an roast cake.

But all this was nothing to what happened one night when I stayed in town taking an account of stock. At ten o'clock I was rung up and my wife said: 'I'm going to bed, dear. It's awful to think that you won't be at home till tomorrow evening.' I tried to cheer her by promising to go home early the next evening, and after telephoning half a dozen kisses I hung up the receiver and continued my work. Ten minutes later I was called again:

"Reginald! Oh Reginald!"

"What is it, dear?"

"I hear sounds below. Someone is trying to break into the house!"

"What could I do? I couldn't ask my wife to go down and face a robber. I asked her what the sounds were like and she said they were like those made by someone boring."

"I now really became frightened myself. I was not so much afraid of burglars attacking my wife; for I knew that she had her bedroom door locked and furniture heaped against it. What I feared was that she would be frightened to death. However, I must plan for her."

"I called a couple of those working with me in stock taking, stating that my wife was locked in her room at home while burglars were below boring in the door, doubtless intending to make a hole to put in an arm to remove the chain and open the door. All voted it a complicated case. It was suggested that I telephone the police at Hibton to go at once to my house, surround it and capture the burglar. I wondered that I had not thought of this plan myself, for it was very simple, and a telephone message from me from the city would be as effective as from my wife in Hibton."

"I called up the police in Hibton and told them to go at once to my house, where they would find someone trying to bore his way in. The man at the desk said that burglars didn't really effect entrance in that way, but he would send some men right over."

"While awaiting the result my wife telephoned me that she had located the boring. It was at the door of a storm shed which was held closed by an iron hook. I thought that any burglar who planned to effect an entrance to my house there was a fool. After unhooking the storm door he would have to open the door within, which was protected by an excellent lock."

"It was not long before I received word from the police at Hibton. 'We got him. He is now in a cell.'"

"I at once telephoned my wife that the danger was past. But realizing that she had suffered a shock, I said that I would go home on the one o'clock train."

"I reached the house about two o'clock and found several of the neighbors attempting to soothe my wife, whose nerves had been terribly strained. While sympathizing with her I received a telephone message from the police that their prisoner claimed to be my wife's brother and desired that I come immediately and identify him."

"Great heavens! could this be so?"

"I answered the summons immediately and on reaching the station, there waiting for me sat Jim Chamberlain, my brother-in-law, true enough."

"What in thunder—" he began.

"What the dickens were you trying to break in—?"

"I had a key to the side door and I was trying to cut away a bit of wood in order to lift the hook on the storm door."

"You've scared Mollie out of her senses. Why didn't you ring?"

"I thought I could get in without waking her."

"That's the end of the story and the end of a telephone in my house. If the things could be used only for legitimate purposes, they would be a great convenience, but they won't do for nervous wives to say sweet things to their absent husbands."

A. I. Bloom and wife of Akron, O., have moved to New Millport where they expect to spend the winter.

COURT NOTES

Judge Bell made disposition yesterday afternoon of several criminal cases which had been pending for some time.

James McAviney, alias James Connell, of Hawk Run who was brought back from the State of Washington on a charge of desertion and non support, was ordered to pay $25 per month for the support of his wife and five small children. He was directed to give bond in the sum of one thousand dollars for the performance of this obligation and if such bond is not provided within ten days then McAviney is to go to the western penitentiary at Pittsburgh for one year.

Paul Cutler who was convicted of stealing several sacks of flour from a freight car at the B. R. & P. station, was given another chance because of the fact that his family would suffer from his imprisonment. He was paroled for three years in the custody of Daniel Shea, with the understanding that he secure employment and support his family and set aside a sum of money from his wages each month for the payment of the costs and the reimbursement of the owner of the flour. He is also to report to officers Stock and Leavy and on his failure to properly comport himself will be brought into court for sentence.

SEEK 1500 AUTO MECHANICS

Army Opens Recruiting Office to Fill Up Division: Waiving Physical Defects

Waiving aside minor physical requirements, the government is making extraordinary efforts to obtain 1500 automobile mechanics and men of other trades within the next week or ten days, and has opened offices for that purpose in the Philadelphia Automobile club, 23 South Twenty-third street in charge of Major James W. Florida, U. S. A.

These men will make up the complement of the mechanical repair shop division of the expeditionary forces, consisting of 5000 to keep the thousands of autotrucks used in France by our men in good condition. This division was to have sailed a month ago, but was held back through lack of sufficient numbers. All men between twentyone and forty-five years are eligible, with the exception of those already called for draft.

MISSISSIPPI IN CELEBRATION

Jackson, Miss., Dec. 10—With interesting exercises and with many distinguished guests in attendance, Mississippi today celebrated the centennial of its admission into the union. The formal ceremonies of the day were under the auspices of the Mississippi Historical society.

One of the principal features of the day's program was the unveiling of a bronze memorial to the women of the Confederacy in front of Mississippi's new capitol. The Daughters of the Confederacy, which organization erected the memorial, was in charge of the program. Former United States Senator LeRoy Percy delivered the oration of the day.

OUR NEIGHBORS CURWENSVILLE

David D. Reid, of Hyde, is visiting his daughter, Mrs. J. G. Fullerton on his way home from Greenwich, Cambria county where he had spent the past three weeks visiting relatives.

The heavy snow and wind storm on Saturday night put the electric lights on the blink and caused much inconvenience to merchants and shoppers. The stock of candies and kerosene lamps was brought into play and everybody made the best of a bad situation.

Alex Frankhouser, of the Anderson hunting camp spent part of Saturday and Sunday with his family, returning to camp Sunday evening accompanied by Joe Mallon and Lew Taylor who will spend the week in camp.

The heavy snow which fell Saturday brought out sleds and sleighs for the first this season.

Byron Lines, of Pittsburg, is visiting his brother Harry Lines.

The store of L. W. Spencer presents a beautiful Christmas display.

Owing to the sudden drop of the thermometer and heavy snow fall on Saturday the attendance at the Sunday schools yesterday was not as large as usual.

Miss Mary Mulready who has been visiting her brother James Mulready of South Side for the past two months left for her home in Elmira, N. Y., Saturday morning.

Mrs. Harry Lines spent Saturday visiting in Tyrone.

Mrs. Matthew Farrel who has been visiting her cousin Mrs. Joe Fullerton for the past week returned to her home in Barnesboro today.

Mrs. R. A. Russell who was operated upon last week is getting along fine.

Mrs. Sarah Ammerman has removed to apartments in the Martha Broome property on Pine street.

Mrs. H. P. Kirk and son Richard were recent Philipsburg visitors with relatives.

Will Leach who has been home on furlough from Ft. Niagara training camp left Saturday for Seattle, Wash., where he will be stationed.

Our hardware merchant Lynn S. Daugherty is the first victim of too much shooting during the hunting season. He received a load of gun shot in the leg while out hunting rabbits near town Saturday, 14 shots penetrating in and below the knee, which will probably cause him much trouble for a few weeks to come.

DAIRY

QUIETNESS OF GREAT VALUE

Something That Should Be Insisted Upon and Rigidly Enforced Among the Dairy Herds.

The value of quietness among the dairy herds is something that should be insisted upon and rigidly enforced. The intruding hunter is fast being kept out by signs to that effect; but even then one or two sometimes get in when no one is looking. A cow usually hates a dog, and her hate is even increased when the dog is noisy or runs at her. She may not get over the agitation for a day or two, and in the meantime the disturbance shows its effect in the milk supply. If the manager of a herd has nothing to offer in the way of kindness or love to his animals he can do infinite harm. He may apparently lose control of himself at times and feel justified in delivering severe beatings; but such actions are not good as an excuse. Forbid any kicks in the bellies or any striking over the rumps or backs with clubs. Cases are on record of serious harm being done to cattle by those who do not take some forethought on how to manage with reason.

CALVES ON SEPARATOR MILK

Poor Practice to Pour Liquid Into Dirty Trough and Let Animals Drink Their Fill.

If we are ready to admit that a cow's milk is too good for a cow's calf and that it is economically profitable to rob the future cow for the sake of present gains, then it is quite necessary to know how to raise calves on separator milk or other artificial and unnatural foods, says a writer.

The usual practice is to pour separator milk, sometimes cold, into a large trough which is never cleaned, and allow the calves to drink until they are satisfied. This method means potbellied, runty calves, that never make the growth they should, even though they fortunately escape the ravages of indigestion.

COW RELISHES ROUGH FEEDS

Animal Possessed of Large, Roomy Digestive Tract That Is Built for Handling Bulky Feed.

Unlike the hog, the cow has a large roomy digestive tract that is built for the handling of rough feeds. The cow digests her feed to best advantage when her ration is bulky, as the bulky parts of the feed keep the small particles of grain apart and thus allow them to be thoroughly acted on by the digestive juices. The hay and silage should not constitute all the bulk of the ration, as part of it can profitably be supplied by such feeds as corn and cob meal, ground oats, wheat bran and distillers' dried grains.—Iowa Circular 34.

RINGING SELF-SUCKING COW

One Plan Is to Put Brass Ring in Animal's Nose—Gets Ring Instead of Her Teat.

A number of methods of preventing a cow from sucking herself have been suggested, among them being the one of putting a brass ring in the cow's nose large enough that when she opens her mouth to take hold of the teat she will get the ring. If a large ring is used two small ones can be linked into the one that goes in the nose which will answer the same purpose.

FARMER WHO WILL SUCCEED

Profit Over High Cost of Labor and Feed for Meat, Milk, Dairy and Poultry Products.

Advancing prices for meat, milk, dairy and poultry products will bring a profit over the high cost of feed and labor, and the farmer who has kept a good stock of breeding animals is pretty sure to receive handsome returns.

All the school children in town will be vaccinated before the end of the holidays. They are keeping Dr. Erhard pretty busy "scratching" arms.

Take "wear" out of washday

Mere washing doesn't wear out clothes. It's the boiling and hard rubbing that weakens and wears them out before their time.

Use Fels-Naptha soap. It's thrifty economy. Boiling and hard rubbing are unnecessary. You save the clothes, you save time, you save yourself.

Wash the Fels-Naptha way for a month and prove it!

"OUR HITCH IN HELL"

(From Border Experiences, 1916.)

I'm sitting here and thinking things I left behind, And I hate to put on paper what is running through my mind. We've dug a million trenches and cleared ten miles of ground. And a meaner place this side of hell, I know it can't be found. But there's still one consolation, gather closely while I tell, When we die we're bound for Heaven for we've done our hitch in hell.

We've built a hundred kitchens for the cooks to stew our beans, We've stood a hundred guard mounts, and cleaned the camp latrines. We've washed a million mess kits and peeled a million spuds. We've strapped a million blanket-rolls and washed a million duds. The number of parades we've made is very hard to tell; But we need not drill in Heaven for we've done our hitch in hell.

We've killed a million rattlesnakes that tried to take our coats, And shaken a hundred centipedes from out our army socks; We've marched a hundred thousand miles and made a thousand camps. And pulled a million cactus plants from out our army pants; But when our work on earth is ended our friends behind will tell— "When they died they went to Heaven for they'd done their hitch in hell."

When the final taps are sounded and we lay aside our cares,

And we've done the very last parade right up the golden stairs, And the angels bid us welcome, and harps begin to play, And we draw a million fifteen checks and spend them in a day; It is then we'll hear St. Peter tell us loudly with a yell— "Justa take a front seat, privates, for you've done your hitch in hell." —By One of the Boys.

AN ORDINANCE

Expressing the desire of the Council to increase the bonded indebtedness of the Borough of Clearfield, Pennsylvania beyond her two per centum of the last preceding assessed valuation by a net amount of $10,000
for purpose of purchasing one hook
and ladder truck and two hose wagons, all motor driven, and other additional fire apparatus; and providing for an election to obtain the assent of the electors thereto.

Be it ordained by the Council of the Borough of Clearfield in Council regularly assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by authority of
the same:

Section 1. That it is the desire of the council to increase the indebtedness of the Borough of Clearfield,
Pennsylvania, by an issue and sale
of its bonds to an amount not exceeding $10,000 or one third of one per cent of the last preceding assessed
valuation of the taxable property
therein, and to expend the money derived therefrom for the purpose of purchasing one hook and ladder truck
and two hose wagons, all motor driven, and other additional fire apparatus.

Section 2. That for the purpose of obtaining the assent of the electors of
the Borough of Clearfield to such increase of indebtedness, a public election shall be held by the legally constituted election officers at the usual
places for holding the elections in
said borough, under the same regulations as are provided by law for holding municipal elections, on Tuesday,
the 15th day of January, 1918; that
notice of said election shall be given
during at least thirty days by weekly
advertisements in not exceeding three
newspapers published in said borough,
which said notice shall contain a statement of the amount of the last assessed valuation, the amount of the existing debt, the amount and percentage of the proposed increase of debt and the purpose for which the indebtedness of said borough is to be increased; as provided in the laws of the State of Pennsylvania governing
the increase of indebtedness of municipalities.

Ordained and enacted this fifth day
of December, A. D. 1917.

RADICALS ARE
PART OF PLAN

Russian Freedom Being Worked Out Naturally Though End
Is Far From Sight

MUST NOT EXPECT TOO MUCH

(NOTE: Follows the second article
by William G. Shepherd, lately United Press Staff correspondent at Petrograd, depicting the Bolsheviki uprising in Petrograd last July and describing how it was a natural part of the good progress of Russia toward freedom and strength.—Editor.)

By William G. Shepherd
Stockholm, Oct. 24.—By Mail—Ker-
ensky's strength has always rested in his courage and his utter disregard
for his life. From the very first days of the revolution his life has hung by a cord.

"The newspapers say your papa is sick, but I don't believe it," said a little chap on the playground to a public school in Petrograd to Kerensky's
ten year old son.

"He is too sick," said little Kerensky, Jr., "but I heard him tell mamma
that he must keep alive to help save Russia."

With one kidney removed by an operation which, the doctors told him
was a hundred to one chance against success, Kerensky has looked death in the face, and that vision seems to have given him a disregard for his life that stood him in good stead in the days when he was at the head of the Russian government.

Kerensky's only fault is that he has been willing to die but he has not willing to kill.

The July uprising of the Bolsheviki, when some 600 men, women and children were killed in the streets of Petrograd during a reign of terror
that lasted three days, was a fine instance of Kerensky's bravery.

The First Machine gun regiment,
for weeks, had been Bolsheviki. It had demanded that all the power of the government be turned over to the council of Workmen and Soldiers.
Time after time the delegates of the Machine gun regiment—which had some 1,500 machine guns and twenty armored cars, came to Kerensky and threatened to go into the streets and
make an armed showing of power if he would not agree to surrendering the government to the workmen and soldiers. The working men from the great factories, all of whom had arms
in their homes, as Kerensky well
knew, made similar threats. Kerensky, knowing that much of the army
was behind these men, refused.

On July 18, the machine gun men
and the working men went to the dancer's palace, where Lenine and Trotsky, pleaded with the soldiers
and workmen not to go into the streets. During the day delegations passed back and forth between the various barracks and the dancer's palace. Lenine and Trotsky were afraid. I have had first hand stories of the terrors that existed in that palace that bloody day.

They sent word to Kerensky asking him to temporize with the soldiers. Kerensky stood pat. Unwilling to kill, an adversary of the death sentence, he was brave enough to risk
death himself and even brave enough
to permit killings in the streets of Petrograd.

At 11 o'clock that night Lenine and

Trotsky lost control of the machine gun men. "Alright," they said to them, "march through the streets and
run around with your armored cars
if you wish to, but don't shoot and
return to your barracks at midnight!"

Within fifteen minutes the sounds
of rifle shooting were filling the city
and men, women and children were dying in the streets. Kerensky, dashing down to the Nicholas station in an automobile, got onto a special train and was beyond the outskirts
of the city when a band of men came
to the depot, seeking to arrest him.
For three days the terror reigned and
then subsided.

Kerensky came back as a hero and ordered the arrest of Lenine and Trotsky. The former "escaped" that is no one even tried to find him.
Trotsky was found and jailed but Kerensky pardoned him. And thus laid the trap in which he was later
caught and ruined.

PLAN TO UTILIZE BARGE
CANAL

New York, Dec. 10.—The fullest
utilization of the new state barge
canal, which will be opened next year
from Buffalo to this city, is to be the subject of a conference called by Governor Whitman to meet today at
the New York Chamber of Commerce. Mayors of various cities, representatives of commercial organizations and prominent shippers have
been invited to attend.

COMB SAGE TEA
INTO GRAY HAIR

Darken Beautifully and Restore the Natural Color and Lustre at Once

Common garden sage brewed into a tea, used with hairbrush and alcohol
added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur
Compound is a home remedy, in fact, but a sure one. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients a large bottle at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful,
we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's
Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one
can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dip a sponge or soft brush with it and draw
this thought your hair, taking out
small strands at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair
becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft
and luxuriant and you appear years
younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur
Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure,
mitigation or prevention of disease.

British War Aims To Be Advanced By Lloyd George

British Premier Will State War Aims Of His Government Before Parlia- ment Thursday Next

SUCH STATEMENT IS DEEMED NECESSARY

By Ed. L. Keen
London, Dec. 10.—Premier Lloyd George will respond to the recently increased popular demands for a clear explicit definition of the allies' war aims. He will make such a statement within the next few days. It may come when the House of Commons convenes on Wednesday.

The announcement of such a re-statement of the war aims has been made apparent to the British government by several recent developments as contained in exclusive United Press dispatches ten days ago. First, the military, political and economical situation as changed by the developments in Russia; second, an erroneous impression has been created not only in Germany but in the allied and neutral nations by the letter of Marquis Lansdowne; third, President Wilson's redeclaration of America's altruism; fourth, the serious effect of the anti-British propaganda in the United States. It is known that Lloyd George is considering this announcement with more serious thought than any of his previous utterances.

SMALLPOX AT PENFIELD

A Penfield resident was discovered to be suffering with smallpox by the health authorities on Friday last and in consequence the boarding house where he was located, together with a score or so of people are quarantined.

The victim had been circulating generally about the community and made a trip or two to DuBois during the onset of the disease and as a result everybody in that section is being vaccinated.

GERMANS MAKE NO GAINS

London, Dec. 10.—Two German raids which were driven off was all that Field Marshal Haig had to report from the British front today. Southwest of Labassee one of the German raids was driven back before it reached the British lines. At Klein Gillebeke another raiding party was repulsed.

CIVIL COURT BEGINS

The first week of December term of civil court opened this morning with Judge Bell on the bench. Several cases are listed for trial.

Judge Corbett of Brookville, came to Clearfield this afternoon on the 4:35 B. & P. train and will preside over a special case which is scheduled for trial tomorrow.

BACK FROM CAMP LEE

W. P. Carns, one of the Clearfield boys at Camp Lee, came home this morning on a five days furlough and expects to hit the trial in the morning for the Carns camp at the head of Stone run where he will hunt deer a day or two.

JAPS AND CHINKS BUSY

Haparanda, Dec. 10.—Chinese troops have entered Harbin and Japanese troops have entered Vladivostok to afford protection from disturbances, according to an announcement by the Petrograd Official News Agency today.

PEASANT'S COUNCIL REFUSES ARMISTICE

Petrograd, Dec. 10.—The executive committee of the Peasant's council today issued a manifesto repudiating an armistice with Germany and strongly appealing to the people to be against the Bolsheviks and against a separate peace with Germany.

The Russian Election Repudiates Bolshviki

Radicals Now Ask For Coalition Government

Joseph Shaplen
Haparanda, Dec. 10.—The Bolsheviks are ready to agree to a coalition government, according to word brought from Petrograd by couriers today. Returns from Russia's nation wide election show that the Trotsky-Lenine government had been overwhelmingly rejected by the Russian people. It was learned that the Bolsheviks had agreed to submit to the authority of the Central committee at work with the Soldiers and Peasants committees with representatives of all the other Russian political parties and trades.

BOLSHEVIKI CONTROLS SIBERIAN RAILROAD

London, Dec. 10.—The Bolsheviks have gained control of the Siberian railroad and Harbin according to word received here today. Control of Harbin and the trans-Siberian railroad system would likely give the Russians another reason why they would want a separate peace with Germany because the railroad would open up the vast resources of Siberia and Manchuria to the Germans.

CLEARFIELD SHOULD ELECT A NEW FIRE CHIEF

(By United Press)
Philadelphia, Dec. 10.—"Firewomen" are next! According to Fire Chief William H. Murphy this day is not far distant when women will be taken into the Bureau of Fire, not only for clerical duty, but for active work on the engines, trucks and ladders. Chief Murphy painted an attractive picture of daring, heroic

Mrs. Jane Lansberry, relict of the late Samuel Lansberry, passed peacefully into rest eternal at the old homestead in Goshen township, at an early hour Sunday morning, aged about 80 years. Mrs. Lansberry was one of the oldest and most respected residents of Goshen township, where she spent her entire life.

WARNS AGAINST BEING OPTIMISTIC

Washington, Dec. 10.—In startling fashion Secretary of War Baker's weekly war summary today warned the nation against the belief that the newly massed German troops on the Western front would have very little effect. With the German forces taken from the eastern front Germany will be at the greatest strength she has displayed in two and a half years, Baker said.

The war secretary said that the Germans through temporary numerical strength may be able to achieve some relative advantages such as that at Cambrai. He reviewed the British retreat there and praised the American engineers under fire and then warned the country that it must speed up all military preparations "not only to fight but to win the war."

First Armistice Is Now In Full Force

Affects District From Danube To Roumania

(By United Press)
Berlin via London, Dec. 10.—Signing of an armistice with Russia effecting the lines between the Dniester and the Danube was announced in today's official statement.

The sector mentioned constitutes the Russian southeast front and effects the line around Lemberg thru to Roumania.

SURPRISE PARTY

A most pleasant surprise party was held at the home of John Spanogle, when about fifty of their neighbors and friends came in with well filled baskets to celebrate the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Spanogle and her son Roy Carley.

All present did full justice to the splendid supper served after which the evening was spent in singing, music and games.

On departing all bid their friend Roy good bye as he is answering his country's call for men and leaves in a few days to be assigned to one of Uncle Sam's army camps.

EXPLOSIVE LICENSING AGENT FOR CLEARFIELD COUNTY

Prothonotary John H. Moore has been named as Explosive Licensing Agent for Clearfield county. This position has been created by National explosives regulation act which requires all dealers in explosives to be licensed.

Prothonotary Moore has all the necessary blanks in his possession and is now ready to attend to the duties of his appointment.

Under this act it is necessary for each dealer to appear before the licensing agent in person to secure his license, and all those desiring to engage in this business should bear this fact in mind.

THE REAL THING

Old Man Winter and all his children arrived with bells and boots on Saturday night and have since been biting noses and stinging "toes" to their hearts' content. Jack Frost was too much for the heating plants at several of the school rooms this morning, with the result that the kiddos left it back home to mother and did not venture out again until after dinner, at which time the temperature of the school rooms warranted pursuit of knowledge once more.

Former Prothonotary A. M. Bloom Dead

Will Be Buried at Clearfield Wednesday Afternoon

Former Prothonotary A. M. Bloom died suddenly at his home in Penfield early Sunday morning, aged about 65 years.

Mr. Bloom, who was a son of the late Eli Bloom, was one of the best known men in Clearfield county and his death will be sincerely mourned by a large circle of friends.

He had been Postmaster at Penfield for the past two years. He was in Clearfield about ten days ago in his usual good health and news of his death came as a distinct shock to his friends here.

He leaves a widow, two sons and three daughters and is also survived by one sister, Mrs. George Weaver, of Philadelphia.

Obituary and funeral notice tomorrow.

HOLY CITY CAPTURED

London, Dec. 10.—Jerusalem has fallen. The capture of the Holy City, Christianity's most hallowed spot, by General Allenby's British expeditionary forces was announced here today.

The capture of Jerusalem placed the Holy City under Christian control again for the first time in 401 years. During all of that time it has been under control of the Turks. The British began their pushing up the Suez canal early last Spring. Jerusalem's fate was sealed when the British expeditionary forces captured the city of Beersheba. Jerusalem's fall will have a tremendous effect on the Turkish morale according to belief here. Control of this shrine of Christianity has been the boast of Moslem for centuries.

A HANDSOME WINDOW

Encouraged by their previous success in winning the second prize in the window contest waged last year by the Eveready Flashlight concern, the Electric Supply have once more thrown their hats, collectively, into the ring and are after another window prize.

This time the manufacturers of the APEX vacuum sweeper have inaugurated a window contest and the window now being shown by the Electric Supply Co., should be in the running when the prizes are awarded.

The motif of the trim is a room wherein the usual living room furniture is shown and the trimmer has demonstrated by clever placing of the Apex cleaners the ease with which dirt is removed from under radiators, how easily the rugs may be cleaned under the tables and chairs without heavy lifting; how you can clean by the suction method all your upholstered furniture.

The Christmas idea is incorporated into the window by judicious use of poinsettias and tinsel and the whole makes a pleasing ensemble that should place the window high among its competitors.

Two Clearfield boys were victims of the destructive fire which visited Jersey Shore early Sunday morning. They were Stanley Chase, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Chase, who lost his tailor shop, while the electrical supplies store of George McNeil, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sanford McNeil, of West River street was also in the burned area.

GONE TO JACKSONVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Linn Dorr received a telegram from their son Lawshe on Saturday last which stated that he was leaving Fort Slocum that day for a training camp near Jacksonville, Florida. He recently enlisted in the quartermaster's department of the U. S. army.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Shillen, of Gulch avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter Carmella, to Captain Thomas Edwards of the Medical Reserve Corps of the University of Pennsylvania, Base Hospital No. 20. The wedding will take place Christmas week in Philadelphia, Monsignor Crane officiating.

$35,000 Fire Sweeps Business Section Of Osceola Mills

Fire Which Started From Overheated Furnace Wipes Out Five Business Places In Short Order

PHILIPSBURG DEPARTMENT TO RESCUE

A fire which started in the Osceola House at Osceola destroyed the hotel and wiped out the entire block of business houses in that square down to the pool room and cigar store of A. W. Baird. All the buildings in the square were frame and the flames cut through them very rapidly.

The fire caught from a defective furnace in the hotel and spread so rapidly that the building and almost all its contents were totally destroyed, a part of the dining room furniture being about all that was saved.

The wholesale whiskey store of M. McCarty adjoined the hotel and it also went up in flames, although Mr. McCarty succeeded in saving most of this stock and fixtures.

The Lewis Fulton building was next in the path of the flames and it too went up in smoke. It was occupied by Law & Beck's meat market and the Candy Kitchen of Frank Danhos. Very little was saved from either place.

The two-story brick pool room and cigar store of A. W. Baird was next and here the firemen after a most determined three hour battle succeeded in conquering the flames, although the interior of the Baird building was badly damaged by fire and water.

In addition to the business places, enumerated above the apartments of Mrs. Gallagher on the second floor of the Fulton building were destroyed with their contents, as were the H. & C. telephone exchange and bachelor quarters of Dr. McKim and H. B. McCord on the second floor of the Baird building.

The fire started at 1 o'clock this morning and as the thermometer registered five degrees below zero.

They arrived on the scene at 1 o'clock and did good work.

During the course of the fire they ran out of gasoline and when the engine was shut down until a supply of gas could be obtained, water in the hose froze up and greatly handicapped them for the remainder of the fight, although the difficulty was overcome in part.

The loss is estimated at about $35,000, with insurance of about one-third that amount.

This is the third big fire to visit Osceola in the past five years, and each of the previous ones did much to emphasize the need for more adequate fire equipment.

The boys had the same equipment in way of apparatus that No. 1, the second Ward and Third Ward companies here have—two or three times that amount.

Clearfield people should note the experiences of Osceola and the Shore, where the ravages of a morning's big fire was largely the same cause, inadequate equipment. The losses made by these fires would be more than offset to purchase three times the equipment we need. Remember the fact and vote accordingly January 15th.

THE HAND OF GOD IN HISTORY

Despite the zero weather last evening there was a good sized audience at the Presbyterian church to hear the High School Glee club and Professor John Taylor's lecture on "The Hand of God in History."

The High School Glee club of seventy voices sang exceptionally well and their numbers, difficult as they were, were handled with smoothness and were interpreted with feeling.

Professor Van Osten is to be congratulated upon his work with the chorus as their singing last evening was of the highest order.

Mr. Taylor treated his audience to one of the most instructive lectures that has ever been listened to in Clearfield. He proved by conclusive arguments that the hand of God was plainly shown in all the great wars from the time Moses was raised up to lead the Children of Israel out of bondage.

By successive steps from that time down to the present the marks of His Handiwork are plainly seen and in conclusion Mr. Taylor explained how this nation in particular was the result of divine guidance and that, in this present world war, this nation would be the leading spirit in Christianizing the world.

The third number of the High School lecture course was given by the Fairchild quartette at the High School building last Friday evening.

The Fairchild quartette was the best ladies quartette that has been in Clearfield in five years. The music given by them was wonderful. The violin solos given by Miss Dorothy Fairchild has heard for some time.

Miss Lela Fairchild, gave some excellent readings and the playing of Miss Bessie Fairchild, pianist and Miss Mildred Meremess, cellist, was very good. The quartette also gave some excellent singing.

It is not often that Clearfield people have a chance to listen to such talented musicians as these were. This is their first year under Redpath management.

We hope that the Fairchild quartet will again visit Clearfield next year.

MONDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 10, 1917.

Take this tip from father: The cost of the luxuries which fill our stomachs today would put a load of coal in every poor family's coal bin in Clearfield.

Such a cold snap as we are now going through is bound to bring out a great many cases of privation and poverty. False pride prevents and deters many families from publicly acknowledging their living conditions and as a result when a real cold blizzard comes along they are without proper food and clothing. Even then they hold back until in many cases sickness and even death enter these homes. A few cases of desperate need have come to light the past two days and no doubt there are a number of families in this community today who are without the necessities which will guarantee them health and happiness. Let every citizen be on the lookout for such conditions and investigate them. Be a good Samaritan to these people who have been unable to cope with the high cost of living in this trying age. It is a patriotic service to perform as we can not afford to be crippled economically by unnecessary sickness and adversity.

PASSING OF PIONEER REPUBLICAN

William E. Chandler of New Hampshire, whose death has just occurred at the ripe age of eighty-two, was one of the founders of the Republican party. An early Free Soiler, he was active in the organization of the Fremont campaign in 1856; and his State was among those which gave their electoral votes to the Pathfinder. The friend of Lincoln, Mr. Chandler came to Washington in the days of the Civil War and was an assistant secretary of the treasury. He became secretary of the Republican National Committee, and his activities in the disputed Presidential election of 1876 are a matter of history. He served in President Arthur's Cabinet as Secretary of the Navy; and under him were taken the first steps in the building of the new navy, the "White Squadron" of his day having now become the second largest naval force afloat. For fourteen years he represented New Hampshire in the Senate; and, on his retirement from that position he became president of the commission which settled the claims growing out of the war with Spain. For sixty years he was active in public affairs, having outlived nearly all of his contemporaries of pioneer Republican days and having maintained his interest in constructive political work to the end.

CHAMBERLAIN CASE BEFORE GRAND JURY

Richmond, Va., Dec. 10 — The Goodland county grand jury which convenes today will take up for consideration the case of Dr. Asa Chamberlain, charged with the murder of his brother, Albert P. Chamberlain. The alleged murder occurred at the home of his brother Albert P. Chamberlain near this city on the night of October 22. Several days after the body of the dismembered body of the slain man was found buried beneath an outhouse. Investigation by the authorities led to the arrest of Dr. Chamberlain, who is said to have gone to the home of his brother on the day of the alleged crime to settle a debt.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 10—The

Supreme Court of the United States reconvened today, following the two weeks recess over the Thanksgiving holidays. One of the most important cases docketed to receive the early attention of the supreme tribunal is a test case brought to determine the constitutionality of the Selective Draft Law. Altogether there are seven suits pending before the court involving this issue. Among them are those of Emma Goldman and Alexander Berkman, sentenced to two years' imprisonment and fines for urging men of conscription age not to register.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work. People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. P. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

I find that in order to justify me in operating the Town Jitney under present conditions it will be necessary for me to ask just a little more fare from each passenger, and knowing as you do, the necessity for such a move, am satisfied that you will be willing to share a little of my added expense with me.

Below you will find a schedule of rules and regulations for the governing of the Town Jitney service after December 9, 1917:

Single fares, 7 cents; double fare, 15 cents; three fares, 20 cents; four fares, 30 cents; five fares, 35 cents.

All passengers will be required to make their own change and have fare or ticket ready to drop in slot when entering car.

No penny change will be made by jitney driver and if patron does not have a nickel and two pennies he will have to drop a dime in the slot. All pieces of money from 25 cents up will be changed for patrons by driver on demand.

I will offer Cut Rate Ticket books, one containing 8 tickets for 60 cents, and one containing 16 tickets for $1. On entering jitney patron will be required to tear tickets off single before dropping in slot and when more than one fare is paid with tickets you will be required to name number of fares to driver and show tickets before dropping them.

This advance is absolutely necessary if we would continue our service, and we ask your consideration and cooperation in the change.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder troubles you

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then a get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with soda, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in the so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

An Abuse of the Telephone

By F. A. MITCHELL

(Copyright, 1917, Western Newspaper Union.)

"I'll call you up about nine o'clock and let you know the result."

"You can't call me up because I have no telephone in my house."

"No telephone? Why, I supposed every house had a telephone nowadays."

"Mine hasn't. It had one and I had it taken out."

"Why so?"
"Well, there's a little story about it. If you care to hear it, I'll tell it to you. You know, I live out at Hibton, an hour's ride from the city. When I was first married, my wife was alone all day. I being in town at business, so we concluded to put in a telephone so that she could call me up once in a while to break her loneliness, or if anything unusual occurred."

"Well, the first thing to be communicated was, 'I caught the mouse I set the trap for; what shall I do with it?' The next thing to be communicated was, 'Someone is in the house opposite; the doctor's conveyance is standing before the door.'"

Then she called me up to ask me to bring her a spoon of thread when I came out in the evening. I must walk six blocks to a store where I could buy the kind she wanted, and she could get it by walking two blocks, or send for it by telephone. I told her to do this and she said she didn't like to ask the storekeeper to send so small a package costing only two cents. It was the same with an roast cake.

But all this was nothing to what happened one night when I stayed in town taking an account of stock. At ten o'clock I was rung up and my wife said: 'I'm going to bed, dear. It's awful to think that you won't be at home till tomorrow evening.' I tried to cheer her by promising to go home early the next evening, and after telephoning half a dozen kisses I hung up the receiver and continued my work. Ten minutes later I was called again:

"Reginald! Oh Reginald!"
"What is it, dear?"
"I hear sounds below. Someone is trying to break into the house!"

"What could I do? I couldn't ask my wife to go down and face a robber. I asked her what the sounds were like and she said they were like those made by someone boring."

"I now really became frightened myself. I was not so much afraid of burglars attacking my wife; for I knew that she had her bedroom door locked and furniture heaped against it. What I feared was that she would be frightened to death. However, I must plan for her."

"I called a couple of those working with me in stock taking, stating that my wife was locked in her room at home while burglars were below boring in the door, doubtless intending to make a hole to put in an arm to remove the chain and open the door. All voted it a complicated case. It was suggested that I telephone the police at Hibton to go at once to my house, surround it and capture the burglar. I wondered that I had not thought of this plan myself, for it was very simple, and a telephone message from me from the city would be as effective as from my wife in Hibton."

"I called up the police in Hibton and told them to go at once to my house, where they would find someone trying to bore his way in. The man at the desk said that burglars didn't really effect entrance in that way, but he would send some men right over."

"While awaiting the result my wife telephoned me that she had located the boring. It was at the door of a storm shed which was held closed by an iron hook. I thought that any burglar who planned to effect an entrance to my house there was a fool. After unhooking the storm door he would have to open the door within, which was protected by an excellent lock."

"It was not long before I received word from the police at Hibton. 'We got him. He is now in a cell.'"

"I at once telephoned my wife that the danger was past. But realizing that she had suffered a shock, I said that I would go home on the one o'clock train."

"I reached the house about two o'clock and found several of the neighbors attempting to soothe my wife, whose nerves had been terribly strained. While sympathizing with her I received a telephone message from the police that their prisoner claimed to be my wife's brother and desired that I come immediately and identify him."

"Great heavens! could this be so?"
"I answered the summons immediately and on reaching the station, there waiting for me sat Jim Chamberlain, my brother-in-law, true enough."

"What in thunder—?" he began.
"What the dickens were you trying to break in—?"

"I had a key to the side door and I was trying to cut away a bit of wood in order to lift the hook on the storm door."

"You've scared Mollie out of her senses. Why didn't you ring?"
"I thought I could get in without waking her."

"That's the end of the story and the end of a telephone in my house. If the things could be used only for legitimate purposes, they would be a great convenience, but they won't do for nervous wives to say sweet things to their absent husbands."

A. I. Bloom and wife of Akron, O., have moved to New Millport where they expect to spend the winter.

COURT NOTES

Judge Bell made disposition yesterday afternoon of several criminal cases which had been pending for some time.

James McAviney, alias James Connell, of Hawk Run who was brought back from the State of Washington on a charge of desertion and non support, was ordered to pay $25 per month for the support of his wife and five small children. He was directed to give bond in the sum of one thousand dollars for the performance of this obligation and if such bond is not provided within ten days then McAviney is to go to the western penitentiary at Pittsburgh for one year.

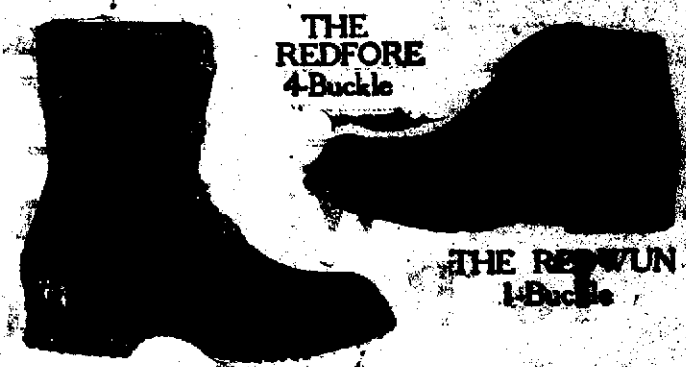

Paul Cutler who was convicted of stealing several sacks of flour from a freight car at the B. & P. station, was given another chance because of the fact that his family would suffer from his imprisonment. He was paroled for three years in the custody of Daniel Shea, with the understanding that he secure employment and support his family and set aside a sum of money from his wages each month for the payment of the costs and the reimbursement of the owner of the flour. He is also to report to officers Stock and Leavy and on his failure to properly comport himself will be brought into court for sentence.

MISSISSIPPI IN CELEBRATION

Jackson, Miss., Dec. 10—With interesting exercises and with many distinguished guests in attendance, Mississippi today celebrated the centennial of its admission into the union. The formal ceremonies of the day were under the auspices of the Mississippi Historical society.

One of the principal features of the day's program was the unveiling of a bronze memorial to the women of the Confederacy in front of Mississippi's new capitol. The Daughters of the Confederacy, which organization erected the memorial, was in charge of the program. Former United States Senator LeRoy Percy delivered the oration of the day.

OUR NEIGHBORS CURWENSVILLE

David D. Reid, of Hyde, is visiting his daughter, Mrs. J. G. Fullerton on his way home from Greenwich, Cambria county where he had spent the past three weeks visiting relatives.

The heavy snow and wind storm on Saturday night put the electric lights on the blink and caused much inconvenience to merchants and shoppers. The stock of candies and kerosene lamps was brought into play and everybody made the best of a bad situation.

Alex Frankhouser, of the Anderson hunting camp spent part of Saturday and Sunday with his family, returning to camp Sunday evening accompanied by Joe Mallon and Lew Taylor who will spend the week in camp.

The heavy snow which fell Saturday brought out sleds and sleighs for the first this season.

Byron Lines, of Pittsburg, is visiting his brother Harry Lines.

The store of L. W. Spencer presents a beautiful Christmas display.

Owing to the sudden drop of the thermometer and heavy snow fall on Saturday the attendance at the Sunday schools yesterday was not as large as usual.

Miss Mary Mulready who has been visiting her brother James Mulready of South Side for the past two months left for her home in Elmira, N. Y., Saturday morning.

Mrs. Harry Lines spent Saturday visiting in Tyrone.

Mrs. Matthew Farrel who has been visiting her cousin Mrs. Joe Fullerton for the past week returned to her home in Barnesboro today.

Mrs. R. A. Russell who was operated upon last week is getting along fine.

Mrs. Sarah Ammerman has removed to apartments in the Martha Broome property on Pine street.

Mrs. H. P. Kirk and son Richard were recent Philipsburg visitors with relatives.

Will Leach who has been home on furlough from Ft. Niagara training camp left Saturday for Seattle, Wash., where he will be stationed.

Our hardware merchant Lynn S. Daugherty is the first victim of too much shooting during the hunting season. He received a load of gun shot in the leg while out hunting rabbits near town Saturday, 14 shots penetrating in and below the knee, which will probably cause him much trouble for a few weeks to come.

QUIETNESS OF GREAT VALUE

Something That Should Be Insisted Upon and Rigidly Enforced Among the Dairy Herds.

The value of quietness among the dairy herds is something that should be insisted upon and rigidly enforced. The intruding hunter is fast being kept out by signs to that effect; but even then one or two sometimes get in when no one is looking. A cow usually hates a dog, and her hate is even increased when the dog is noisy or runs at her. She may not get over the agitation for a day or two, and in the meantime the disturbance shows its effect in the milk supply. If the manager of a herd has nothing to offer in the way of kindness or love to his animals he can do infinite harm. He may apparently lose control of himself at times and feel justified in delivering severe beatings; but such actions are not good as an excuse. Forbid any kicks in the bellies or any striking over the rumps or backs with clubs. Cases are on record of serious harm being done to cattle by those who do not take some forethought on how to manage with reason.

Poor Practice to Pour Liquid Into Dirty Trough and Let Animals Drink Their Fill.

If we are ready to admit that a cow's milk is too good for a cow's calf and that it is economically profitable to rob the future cow for the sake of present gains, then it is quite necessary to know how to raise calves on separator milk or other artificial and unnatural foods, says a writer.

The usual practice is to pour separator milk, sometimes cold, into a large trough which is never cleaned, and allow the calves to drink until they are satisfied. This method means potbellied, runty calves, that never make the growth they should, even though they fortunately escape the ravages of indigestion.

COW RELISHES ROUGH FEEDS

Animal Possessed of Large, Roomy Digestive Tract That Is Built for Handling Bulky Feed.

Unlike the hog, the cow has a large roomy digestive tract that is built for the handling of rough feeds. The cow digests her feed to best advantage when her ration is bulky, as the bulky parts of the feed keep the small particles of grain apart and thus allow them to be thoroughly acted on by the digestive juices. The hay and silage should not constitute all the bulk of the ration, as part of it can profitably be supplied by such feeds as corn and cob meal, ground oats, wheat bran and distillers' dried grains.—Iowa Circular 34.

One Plan Is to Put Brass Ring in Animal's Nose—Gets Ring Instead of Her Teat.

A number of methods of preventing a cow from sucking herself have been suggested, among them being the one of putting a brass ring in the cow's nose large enough that when she opens her mouth to take hold of the teat she will get the ring. If a large ring is used two small ones can be linked into the one that goes in the nose which will answer the same purpose.

FARMER WHO WILL SUCCEED

Profit Over High Cost of Labor and Feed for Meat, Milk, Dairy and Poultry Products.

Advancing prices for meat, milk, dairy and poultry products will bring a profit over the high cost of feed and labor, and the farmer who has kept a good stock of breeding animals is pretty sure to receive handsome returns.

All the school children in town will be vaccinated before the end of the holidays. They are keeping Dr. Erhard pretty busy "scratching" arms.

Take "wear" out of washday

Mere washing doesn't wear out clothes. It's the boiling and hard rubbing that weakens and wears them out before their time.

Use Fels-Naptha soap. It's thrifty economy. Boiling and hard rubbing are unnecessary. You save the clothes, you save time, you save yourself.

Wash the Fels-Naptha way for a month and prove it!

"OUR HITCH IN HELL"

(From Border Experiences, 1916.)

I'm sitting here and thinking things I left behind, And I hate to put on paper what is running through my mind. We've dug a million trenches and cleared ten miles of ground. And a meaner place this side of hell, I know it can't be found. But there's still one consolation, gather closely while I tell, When we die we're bound for Heaven for we've done our hitch in hell.

We've built a hundred kitchens for the cooks to stew our beans, We've stood a hundred guard mounts, and cleaned the camp latrines. We've washed a million mess kits and peeled a million spuds. We've strapped a million blanket-rolls and washed a million duds. The number of parades we've made is very hard to tell; But we need not drill in Heaven for we've done our hitch in hell.

We've killed a million rattlesnakes that tried to take our coats, And shaken a hundred centipedes from out our army socks; We've marched a hundred thousand miles and made a thousand camps. And pulled a million cactus plants from out our army pants; But when our work on earth is ended our friends behind will tell— "When they died they went to Heaven for they'd done their hitch in hell."

When the final taps are sounded and we lay aside our cares,

And we've done the very last parade right up the golden stairs, And the angels bid us welcome, and harps begin to play, And we draw a million fifteen checks and spend them in a day; It is then we'll hear St. Peter tell us loudly with a yell— "Justa take a front seat, privates, for you've done your hitch in hell." —By One of the Boys.

NOTICE OF AN ELECTION ON INCREASE OF DEBT IN THE BOROUGH OF CLEARFIELD

The property owners, residents, citizens and qualified electors of the Borough of Clearfield, Pennsylvania, will please take notice.

That whereas the Council of the Borough of Clearfield by an ordinance duly passed the fifth day of December, A.D. 1917, and approved by the Burgess, has expressed a desire to increase the indebtedness of said borough to the amount of $10,000 for the purpose hereinafter set forth:

"Now therefore in order to obtain the assent of the electors of said borough to said increase of indebtedness, a public election will be held at the places for holding municipal elections at the election houses in each ward in the Borough of Clearfield, Pennsylvania, on Tuesday, the 15th day of January, A. D. 1918, between the hours of seven o'clock A. M. and seven o'clock P. M.

Statement

AN ORDINANCE

Expressing the desire of the Council to increase the bonded indebtedness of the Borough of Clearfield,
Pennsylvania beyond her two per
centum of the last preceding assessed
valuation by a net amount of $10,000
for purpose of purchasing one hook
and ladder truck and two hose wagons, all motor driven, and other additional fire apparatus; and providing for an election to obtain the as-
sent of the electors thereto.

Be it ordained by the Council of the Borough of Clearfield in Council regularly assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by authority of
the same:

Section 1. That it is the desire of the council to increase the indebtedness of the Borough of Clearfield,
Pennsylvania, by an issue and sale
of its bonds to an amount not exceeding $10,000 or one third of one per cent of the last preceding assessed
valuation of the taxable property
therein, and to expend the money derived therefrom for the purpose of
purchasing one hook and ladder truck
and two hose wagons, all motor
driven, and other additional fire apparatus.

Section 2. That for the purpose of obtaining the assent of the electors of
the Borough of Clearfield to such increase of indebtedness, a public election shall be held by the legally constituted election officers at the usual
places for holding the elections in
said borough, under the same regulations as are provided by law for holding municipal elections, on Tuesday,
the 15th day of January, 1918; that
notice of said election shall be given
during at least thirty days by weekly
advertisements in not exceeding three
newspapers published in said borough,
which said notice shall contain a statement of the amount of the last
assessed valuation, the amount of the existing debt, the amount and percentage of the proposed increase of
debt and the purpose for which the
indebtedness of said borough is to be increased; as provided in the laws of the State of Pennsylvania governing
the increase of indebtedness of municipalities.

Ordained and enacted this fifth day
of December, A. D. 1917.

THE BOLSHIEVIKI
RADICALS ARE
PART OF PLAN

Russian Freedom Being Worked Out Naturally Though End
Is Far From Sight

NOTE: Follows the second article
by William G. Shepherd, lately United Press Staff correspondent at Pe-
trograd, depicting the Bolsheviki uprising in Petrograd last July and describing how it was a natural part of the good progress of Russia toward
freedom and strength.—Editor.

By William G. Shepherd
Stockholm, Oct. 24.—By Mail—Ker-
ensky's strength has always rested in
his courage and his utter disregard
for his life. From the very first
days of the revolution his life has
hung by a cord.

"The newspapers say your papa is sick, but I don't believe it," said a
little chap on the playground to a public school in Petrograd to Kerensky's
ten year old son.

"He is too sick," said little Ker-
ensky, Jr., "but I heard him tell mamma
that he must keep alive to help save Russia."

With one kidney removed by an
operation which, the doctors told him
was a hundred to one chance against
success, Kerensky has looked death in the face, and that vision seems to
have given him a disregard for his
life that stood him in good stead in
the days when he was at the head of the Russian government.

Kerensky's only fault is that he has been willing to die but he has not
willing to kill.

The July uprising of the Bolsheviki, when some 600 men, women and
children were killed in the streets of Petrograd during a reign of terror
that lasted three days, was a fine instance of Kerensky's bravery.

The First Machine gun regiment,
for weeks, had been Bolsheviki. It
had demanded that all the power of
the government be turned over to the council of Workmen and Soldiers.
Time after time the delegates of the Machine gun regiment—which had
some 1,500 machine guns and twenty armored cars, came to Kerensky and
threatened to go into the streets and
make an armed showing of power if he would not agree to surrendering the government to the workmen and soldiers. The working men from the great factories, all of whom had arms
in their homes, as Kerensky well
knew, made similar threats. Ker-
ensky, knowing that much of the army
was behind these men, refused.

On July 18, the machine gun men
and the working men went to the
dancer's palace, where Lenine and Trotsky, pleaded with the soldiers
and workmen not to go into the streets. During the day delegations
passed back and forth between the
various barracks and the dancer's
palace. Lenine and Trotsky were afraid. I have had first hand stories of the terrors that existed in that
palace that bloody day.

They sent word to Kerensky asking him to temporize with the soldiers. Kerensky stood pat. Unwilling to kill, an adversary of the death
sentence, he was brave enough to risk
death himself and even brave enough
to permit killings in the streets of Petrograd.

At 11 o'clock that night Lenine and

Have The Folks Say
"Merry Christmas" Around
A Columbia Grafonola

It will indeed be a merry Christmas for many a Christmas to come for there will always be something new to discover in the work of the world's greatest artists as interpreted by this incomparable machine.

You can listen to the stirring band music, the sweet music of the Hawaiian orchestras, the matchless singing of voices that are heard only in the big cities, the latest war songs, every sort of music is sweetly reproduced right in the heart of your own home.

It'll help keep the children amused during the short days of winter; it will help keep the older boys and girls at home nights; it will be a pleasure for Dad after a hard day's work; Mother can sit down during the day and rest while she listens to the music; grandfather and grandmother will enjoy the songs of long ago—songs that hold many a memory dear to their hearts.

There's a price to suit your pocketbook—there's a GRAFONOLA to suit your taste.

Trotsky lost control of the machine
gun men. "Alright," they said to
them, "march through the streets and
run around with your armored cars
if you wish to, but don't shoot and
return to your barracks at midnight!"

Within fifteen minutes the sounds
of rifle shooting were filling the city
and men, women and children were dying in the streets. Kerensky, dashing down to the Nicholas station in
an automobile, got onto a special train and was beyond the outskirts
of the city when a band of men came
to the depot, seeking to arrest him.
For three days the terror reigned and
then subsided.

Kerensky came back as a hero and
ordered the arrest of Lenine and Trotsky. The former "escaped" that
is no one even tried to find him.
Trotsky was found and jailed but Kerensky pardoned him. And thus
laid the trap in which he was later
caught and ruined.

CANAL

New York, Dec. 10.—The fullest
utilization of the new state barge
canal, which will be opened next year
from Buffalo to this city, is to be the subject of a conference called by Governor Whitman to meet today at
the New York Chamber of Commerce. Mayors of various cities, representatives of commercial organizations and prominent shippers have
been invited to attend.

COMB SAGE TEA
INTO GRAY HAIR

Darken Beautifully and Naturally
Natural Color and Growth at Once

Common garden sage brewed into a
tea, used with hairbrush and alcohol
added, will turn gray, streaked and
faded hair beautifully dark and luxu-
riant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur
Compound at home though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by
the addition of other ingredients a
large bottle at little cost, at drug
stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a
lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful,
we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By
darkening your hair with Wyeth's
Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one
can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dip a sponge or soft brush with it and draw
this thought your hair, taking out
small strands at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair
becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft
and luxuriant and you appear years
younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur
Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure,
mitigation or prevention of disease.
